

29 Die, 90 Injured In Coast Rail Mishap; U.S. Hopes Eden Won't Press for Change

Red China UN Seat - Big Issue Soviet Is Seen Pushing Case.

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—U. S. officials hope to get agreement from British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden here next week to hold the line for another year against seating Red China in the United Nations.

American officials believe Eden will not press any changes in basic U. S. and British policies.

BRITISH recognizes Red China; the United States does not. There have been growing pressures in Britain for several years to support Russia's effort to seat Red China in the UN. The United States is opposed to Red Chinese membership. Britain has gone along each time the issue has come up and voted to shelve it for the duration of each general assembly session.

Officials say there is no doubt but that Russia will raise the matter again next fall.

THE EXPECTATION of administration leaders is that Eden fully realizes the problems with which the government here is faced in a Presidential election year and will not do anything which would clearly result in making those problems more difficult.

The issue may be in for a new airing at home when the Senate takes up President Eisenhower's nomination of Robert R. Bowie to be an assistant Secretary of State.

Sen. Bridges (N.H.) and Knowland (Calif.), GOP policy chairman and floor leader respectively, have made it clear they object to the nomination.

THEY HAVE given no reason publicly, but reportedly do not like Bowie's reputed stand that this country must face up to the U. N.-Red China issue. Both are outspoken opponents of U. N. membership for the Peiping regime.

"I have tried to do everything I can," Bridges said in an interview yesterday, "to keep party unity but I am afraid the administration's insistence on pushing this nomination is going to split the Republicans."

Bridges and Knowland are said to have tried unsuccessfully to persuade Secretary of State Dulles to recommend withdrawal of the nomination. Neither Dulles nor Bowie has commented. Bowie has been head of the

Injury and Arrest Noted in Collision

One person was injured and an arrest followed a two-car collision at the Rondout creek bridge early Sunday.

Maureen Rice, 28, of 121 Pine Grove avenue, suffered a head injury. She was riding in a car owned and operated by Mary Govern, 23, of 346 Broadway.

Officers Gilbert Gray and Joseph Keller reported at 12:47 a. m., that the Govern car was headed west on the bridge and the sedan of William F. Ward, 28, of 1477 Abeel street, was headed north on that street.

Ward was arrested on a charge of passing a red light. He was represented before City Judge Raymond J. Gino today by Attorney John E. Motelli and the case was put over to Jan. 30.

Plans to Be Made on Tuesday For Big Labor Rally Jan. 28

Plans for an area rally protesting use of non-union labor on the proposed $60,000,000 construction of 3,000 to 4,000 homes in the Flatbush section will be discussed at a meeting of the Ulster and Sullivan Building Trades Council Tuesday night in Fallsburgh.

The mass meeting of union membership is scheduled for 2 p. m. Saturday at the municipal auditorium.

Picketing began almost two weeks ago on the site where Masterplanned, Inc., has announced it will construct a "masterplanned" community and "marketing city" to serve the entire Mid-Hudson area, including communities north and south of the bridge on both banks of the river.

Two pickets were at the site again this morning, it was reported. Foundations are being laid for several model homes in the development, reportedly with non-union labor.

Two persons suffered minor injuries in Ulster county vehicular accidents during the weekend and one man was arrested and fined $25 for leaving the scene of an accident.

Insurance Suit Is Lost for $11,000 In Wife's Death

An Englewood, New Jersey man contending that his wife died by accident rather than suicide a year ago on the back seat of a car parked just off the Glenelg Lake road in a dead-end lane, has lost his suit to collect $11,000 from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Coroner: Francis J. McCordie, who testified in the case in Supreme Court in New York city last week, was notified today that the jury had returned a verdict for the insurance company.

THE CORONER issued a verdict of suicide after the bodies of Mrs. Rigmor Johanna Lindquist, 37, and Reuben Lindquist, 60, of Fort Lee, N. J., were found in the car by Kingston State Police on January 29, 1955.

Her widower, Karl H. Lindquist, 516 East Palisades avenue, Englewood, brought suit to collect on a $10,000 policy for personal accident and 20-year endowment policy for $1,000 with a double indemnity clause for accidental death.

CORONER McCordie testified at the trial that a metal cylinder on the floor of the car contained a refrigerant gas, liquid methyl chloride. Trooper Maureen Rice, 28, of 121 Pine Grove avenue, suffered a head injury. She was riding in a car owned and operated by Mary Govern, 23, of 346 Broadway.

Officers Gilbert Gray and Joseph Keller reported at 12:47 a. m., that the Govern car was headed west on the bridge and the sedan of William F. Ward, 28, of 1477 Abeel street, was headed north on that street.

Ward was arrested on a charge of passing a red light. He was represented before City Judge Raymond J. Gino today by Attorney John E. Motelli and the case was put over to Jan. 30.

Two pickets were at the site again this morning, it was reported. Foundations are being laid for several model homes in the development, reportedly with non-union labor.

Discontent simmered up following a meeting of the Building Trades Council in Kingston Jan. 10.

Hal C. Purdy of West Caldwell, N. J., who purchased the land on which the homes will be built, said at the time that construction of the model homes was a "preliminary" operation. What arrangements were in prospect for the rest of the projected construction he was unable to say.

Prediction Made on School Aid Increase to Stay At 60 Million

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 23 (AP)—Increased state aid for education will not exceed the 60 million dollars proposed by the Heald commission, sources close to Republican leaders in control of the Legislature predicted today.

The same sources said the leaders also were disposed now not to increase gasoline taxes this year.

EDUCATIONAL GROUPS all over the state are howling about the Heald commission's program. They say it is all right as far as it goes but does not go far enough.

The central spokesman for all these groups—the state educational conference board—wants state aid increased by 100 million dollars.

A highly placed Republican Legislator, who did not wish to be identified by name, said of the critics of the Heald commission report:

"Have they no regard at all for the other needs of the state? How about highways, mental institutions, salary increases for state employees and other things?"

THE CRITICS, he said, "have isolated themselves in an ivory tower. They are thinking of the financial needs of education without relating them to the financial needs for other services rendered by the state."

"If you promised them 100 million they'd ask for 150," another prominent Republican legislator asked.

"Can you ever satisfy them? They give me a pain. If you gave them 100 million they'd want 200. It won't go a cent over 60 million."

The same legislator said he doubted that the GOP-dominated Legislature would vote to increase gasoline taxes this year.

THE ISSUE was raised again yesterday by Eugene F. Bannister, Albany, N. Y., (Continued on Page 13, Col. 5)

Hercules Port Ewen Plant Wins Firm's Safety Award

Employees of the Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen, who have achieved 506 days without tabulatable lost-time injury, became eligible Saturday for the explosive departments Director of Operations safety award.

This announcement was made today by Edmund P. Rochford, works manager at the Port Ewen plant.

The award is based on the number of hours worked and the level of employment. It is the third won by the employees and is of more value than the others.

The time without lost-time injury totals about 2,100,000 man hours, according to George R. Mustaparta, supervisor of personnel and safety at Hercules.

AFTERMATH — Looking like the result of war-time bombing is this scene at Wadhurst, England, where a twin-jet RAF fighter plane crashed, ripping houses, stores and one hotel.

Woodstock Site Is Bought to Develop

A contract was signed in New York city last Friday for purchase of the former McEvoy estate located on Route 212 at the western end of the village of Woodstock.

Purchasers are Louis and Nathan Kalina of Far Rockaway and Louis and I. Motzkin of New Rochelle.

The property consists of more than 20 acres of beautifully landscaped land with an eight-room residence, a five-room guest house, a large recreation building, a caretaker's home with two extra apartments, a large swimming pool, tennis courts and several other buildings. It has long been a show-place of great beauty.

The new owners are planning to occupy part of the property and develop the balance into a park-type community. Work is scheduled to begin soon.

R. E. Craft of Craft-Caunitz, Realtors, completed the sale in New York city Friday and will handle sale of the homes when completed.

Bridge Steelwork Is Reported on Schedule

Steelwork is progressing on the east approach of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge and fabrication of all steel is moving on schedule, the New York State Bridge Authority said in a report released today.

With the authority's quarterly and annual reports was one from the office of Dr. D. B. Steinman, designer of the bridge, which said that although some work has been delayed "scheduled opening of the bridge to traffic in November 1956 is expected."

PLANS FOR the section of approach between routes 32 and 9W are also under way, it was learned today, and material is being ordered for all the bridge's electrical work.

The authority's report showed that 7,777,012 vehicles were clocked on the three existing Hudson river bridges, in 1955, an increase of four per cent over 1954.

Total 1955 revenue was $2,129,735, an increase of $209,849 over the 1954 total.

THE MID-HUDSON bridge at Poughkeepsie showed an increase of 4.6, with 4,004,031 vehicles clocked, and the Bear Mountain gained 7.6 per cent with 1,945,217 clocked.

The Rip Van Winkle bridge, with 1,690,998 vehicles clocked showed a drop of 9 per cent. The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry, with 76,776 vehicles clocked showed a drop of 4.4 per cent.

THE REPORT said: "It is appropriate to note that Madigan-Hyland, traffic engineers for the authority, in their report dated March 9, 1955, estimated that the total vehicles using the authority's facilities would number 6,490,000 during the year 1955."

It then noted the actual total of over seven million, an increase of 12.1 over the estimate, and said the increase over the estimate "is partially attributable to the fact that in making this estimate the traffic engineers anticipated that, the N. Y. State Thruway Authority's bridge over the Hudson river at Tappan Zee would be opened to traffic about mid-1955, whereas the opening of the bridge was delayed until Dec. 15.

THE TRAFFIC engineers also estimated a further decrease in vehicles in 1956 to 6,330,000. However, the downward trend was estimated to be sharply reversed in 1957 as the Kingston

Unions Help Community, Electrol Local Is Told

Labor unions have not only benefited membership but have been a contribution to the entire community, Fred Cooney, vice president of the International Association of Machinists told some 400 Electrol employees and their guests at the 15th anniversary dinner of Local 1562 at the New York State Armory on Saturday evening.

Mr. Cooney, who organized the Electrol local 15 years ago, congratulated the membership on the wonderful job they have done. He said it has taken "determination, versatility and a lot of patience on everybody's part." "I think you will agree that the influence exercised by our organization as a collective bargaining agent in the Electrol plant," he said, "is not confined entirely to the people who work in the plant but it has benefited the community as a whole and has contributed to community affairs in this city just as in any other city where they have organized."

The merger of the two great unions in this country (AFL-CIO) is strengthening the entire labor movement, Mr. Cooney said. Labor through union has forced management to develop a greater technical know-how and has developed facilities and enlarged plants, he pointed out.

Labor does not want prosperity for labor alone, Mr. Cooney said, but wants prosperity for the good of the country, peace and prosperity for all countries, not only for the free world but all over.

Bodies Are Mangled as Cars Upset Engineer's Spell May Be Cause

Los Angeles, Jan. 23 (AP)—A two-car Santa Fe diesel train, its engineer apparently blacked out, rounded a curve too fast last night and careened over, killing an estimated 29 persons and injuring at least 90 in one of California's worst railroad disasters.

Bodies were so badly mangled and dismembered—some were decapitated—that the coroner's office had difficulty identifying them and determining exactly how many were in the morgue. At least two were children.

Dep. Coroner Richard Davis said, "we believe that there are 30 bodies here."

THE HIGHEST rail death toll in this state was 32 in 1907.

The train last night was enroute to San Diego—125 miles south of here—with 161 passengers, about 40 per cent of them servicemen returning to their bases. The two cars overturned on their left sides a few minutes after leaving the station here at 5:30 p. m. (PST). It was dark.

"The people sitting on the left side were sucked right out of the window and caught on the ties when the train crashed on its side," said Flagman Bill Hines, one of the crew of five. "Those people didn't have a chance."

SPARKS showered as both overturned cars skidded along with a deathly screeching sound for about 200 feet on the outside of the curve. Each car contained a diesel unit and room for 88 passengers. The accident happened inside the city limits, about four miles from Union Depot.

Thousands of homebound motorists, hearing of the wreck on their car radios, drove to the scene, creating a serious traffic jam and delaying some ambulances.

STUNNED, injured survivors lay, sat or stood along the ground. Some searched for missing relatives. Many of the badly injured screamed in pain and panic.

Santa Fe President Fred G. Gurley said in Chicago: "All indications are the accident was caused by undue speed."

Raymond D. Shelton, general manager for Santa Fe's Coast Lines, said, "Engineer Frank Parrish estimated his speed at the time of the derailment at 50 MPH. I think this curve would take about 40 MPH."

Parrish, 61, of San Bernardino, Calif., who has been with the railroad 37 years, said he had slowed the train after passing a 35 MPH marker and apparently blacked out. The next thing he remembers, the engineer said, was the train beginning to tip over.

MANY BODIES were crushed and dismembered. Emergency calls went out for doctors, nurses, clergy and blood. Scores of ambulances lined up at the scene. Clergymen of all faiths

Concerned About Adlai

Concord, N. H., Jan. 23 (AP)—A committee was working toward drawing up a slate of delegate candidates "favorable" to Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination. The New Hampshire primary on March 13 is the first in the nation. Stevenson already has said he would not campaign in the New Hampshire primary, where Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) has been active for the state's eight convention votes. However, a candidate's consent is not necessary when a slate runs as "favorable" to a candidate, compared with a slate that is "pledged" to a presidential hopeful.

Damage was estimated at more than $175,000. Firemen using 30 pieces of equipment were hampered by blazing ammonia gas which escaped from the rink's freezing system and burned long after the walls and roof of the structure collapsed. Fire department officials believe the fire started either in the building's heating unit or the refrigerator systems.

Redeemer Annual Meeting Hears Expansion Report

At the recent annual congregational meeting of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer held in the assembly room of the church at Wurts and Rogers streets, reports of the congregation's expansion program were given, officers elected and a budget for 1956 in excess of $30,000 was adopted. In his annual report to the congregation the pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, pointed out increases in all categories of the church's work with communicants at an all-time high, a 20 per cent increase in weekly offerings and the Sunday school rapidly outgrowing the facilities now available.

HE ALSO reported that the expansion program, adopted last year, was being carried out. A new parsonage has been purchased and will be ready for the pastor and his family this week. As soon as possible the present parsonage adjoining the church on Wurts street will be remodeled to house part of the growing Sunday school and provide additional meeting rooms for organizations, the pastor said.

Elected as officers for the year were Frederick F. DuBois, president; Frederick Boos, secretary; and Harry A. Legg, treasurer. Elected to the Church Council, official governing body of the congregation, were Chester D. Fox, Richard Gendreau Sr., Russell Moore and Ernest Ryan Jr. Robert F. Short, retiring president of the congregation, who was in charge of the meeting, paid tribute to those who have served with him on the council, singling out for special mention Walter A. Riggins for his 25 years of service as secretary and Harry S. Hutton for his service on the council and as president for over a quarter of a century. The others mentioned are leaving the council under a "rotating" system, Clarence S. Rowland Jr., Donald Griffin and George R. Saehoff.

THE BUDGET which was adopted for 1956 provides some $23,000 for current operating expenses and $10,000 for benevolent causes, exclusive of expansion program funds. At the recommendation of the council, the congregation set up a special scholarship fund to encourage and assist young people to enter the full-time service of the church.

The newly elected officers will be installed at the service at Redeemer Church Sunday at 10:45 o'clock.

Red China

State Department's policy planning committee.

Eden and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd are due here a week hence for four days of discussions on a global range of subjects with Eisenhower and Dulles.

WHILE THERE is little concern about the Red China question, there is less optimism among administration officials about their ability to hold the line on restrictions on trade with the Communist bloc countries.

Britain has been described as wanting to expand trade with Russia and the eastern European countries and ease substantially restrictions on trade with China. The United States is opposed to such moves now.

Eden and Eisenhower with their advisers are due to make an intensive study of Russia's new economic and political offensives, primarily against south Asia and Middle Eastern countries. The aim is to come up with some fresh policies for meeting this latest cold war challenge.

Eisenhower and Dulles may argue that the western world should not now sell to the Soviet Union goods which would increase Russia's capacity to produce economic assistance to underdeveloped countries.

The basis of the embargo list to date has been solely the blocking of goods which would increase Communist military power.

American officials say most attention in the conference will be devoted to middle eastern problems.

Report Loyalty Plan Helping Civil Rights

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—The American Civil Liberties Union says the federal courts and new attitudes in loyalty programs have brought major gains for civil rights in the past year.

The ACLU annual report, made public yesterday, cited federal court defense of due process and equal treatment under the law as the greatest civil liberties development of the year.

It said this was seen in decisions limiting the State Department's power to deny passports to citizens and "continuing to break down barriers of discrimination and segregation" in education and public places.

Regarding loyalty programs, the ACLU stated that for six years security regulations had "seriously eroded the American principle and practice of individual freedom by failing to provide for due process and by excesses."

"Suddenly in the spring and summer of 1955 the current began to run the other way," it added. "The civil liberties aspect of the security-loyalty problem remains critical... but now, at least, there are signs that the country may be turning from an unhealthy preoccupation with its fears to an intelligently practical use of its strengths."

This change, it said, is the result of "a general awakening of the public conscience... the guidance of the federal courts and the courage of a number of responsible legislators and government officials."

Chinchilla Firm Advertising Checked

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—An injunction against misleading advertising by a firm selling chinchillas for breeding has been announced by State Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits.

The injunction is against Chinchilla Industries Inc., 248-02 Northern Boulevard, Queens. Javits said the injunction was consented to by the defendant company.

Javits, who announced issuance of the injunction yesterday said it bars the firm from using misleading advertising, selling sub-standard chinchillas or failing to keep records of customer contracts and warranties for two years.

Javits said the Queens firm had lured customers by advertising easy big profits through breeding and raising the little rodents, valued for their soft fur. He said high pressure sales tactics by the firm prompted several thousand persons in the metropolitan area to buy chinchillas.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Arthur B. Spielberg, who handled the injunction case for Javits, said he had found no fur coat made from the variety of chinchilla sold by the Queens firm.

Javits said his office obtained refunds of more than $20,000 in overcharges for 10 customers who filed specific complaints against the firm.

Javits said in a statement: "I do not wish in any way to reflect upon the business of breeding chinchillas, which is countrywide and has received much attention, but only to refer to impositions on prospective breeders by the practices enjoined in this case."

A spokesman for the Queens firm said it would have no comment on the case.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

My father bought me the Book of Knowledge when I was a youngster and to this day I delight in going through its pages of stories and pictures. One page called "The First Steamboats, Ever Made," on page 2469 is interesting for it of course has the Clermont there although does not give it top billing, in fact only mentions the inventor. Somehow this book gives the credit to Jonathan Hulls, as the man, an Englishman, who probably built the first steamboat, in 1706. As they say: "Here we see Hulls' own drawings of his vessel, which are still in the patent office." But they do not say if it was really built. Then according to the authors, come a Scotchman, William Symington, in 1788, who had a two paddle-wheeled affair right in the middle of the deck. In 1807, Symington built another steamboat for Lord Dundas, and it towed barges on the Forth and Clyde Canal until its use was forbidden by the canal owners. Then came an American inventor, Robert Fulton, who was the first man to make steam navigation commercially successful, when he built "this steamboat" on the Hudson. Strange that the Book of Knowledge did not know the name of the famous Clermont. Those things bothered me even when I was a youngster, for the Clermont replica was right down in Kingston Point Park Lagoon.

Robert Fulton had the engine built by Boulton and Watt in England, then he came to America and had the engine packed and brought over in a ship. When it arrived, he set to work to put it together. Incidentally, the engine of the replica at the Kingston Point Lagoon was identical with original Clermont built in England. The Book of Knowledge gives the story in Fulton's own words: "When I was building my first steamer in New York," Fulton wrote, "the work was viewed by the public either with carelessness or contempt, as a useless scheme. My friends, indeed, were civil, but they were shy. As I had occasion to pass daily to and from the shipyard I often loitered unknown near idle groups of strangers, and heard them scoff and sneer and ridicule. Never did a single encouraging remark, a bright hope, a warm wish, cross my path. My work was always spoken of as Fulton's Folly." In years to come, we all enjoyed "Fulton's Folly" as we steamed along in those splendid Dayline steamers to and from Kingston. In the launching of the Clermont replica during the Hudson-Fulton celebration, E. E. Olcott the Clermont chairman said in part: "It is interesting that, on this auspicious day (Saturday, July 10, 1909) we have one part of the old original Clermont, the bell, which was used before the days of the steam whistle to call passengers to landings. It is my pleasure to present this bell for the occasion. May it ring out a message, clear and true, both for this and future generations... as Fulton had said 'Although the prospect of personal emolument has been some inducement to me, yet, I feel infinitely more pleasure in reflecting on the numerous advantages that my country will derive from the invention.' I know what most of the readers will ask now. Where is the famous bell now? I do not know. I wonder did it also disappear mysteriously with the historic engine and other parts off the Clermont replica at Kingston Point Park, or is it in a New York State Museum. It all belonged to the people of New York state according to the official statements. Perhaps the readers may know where the famous original Clermont bell is.

A Wee Bit of Unselfishness

All over America there are churches, hospitals and colleges desperately needing the financial help of complacent capitalists, but it would take a wee bit of unselfishness to accomplish this.

How many thousands of people there are in the United States with bank accounts in six figures and in bond portfolios in seven figures, it would be impossible to estimate. But they are myriads. Some of them are retired and, squatting down on their wealth, they have moved it to places they consider invulnerable.

Possession of wealth at age 70 or 80 often causes strange barriers to be set up. At the very time when many persons should become generous they get penurious. Vain capitalists frequently remove as many risks from their money as possible in order to leave a big estate.

Demand deposits in commercial banks at the latest available report were more than $103,000,000,000. As recently as 1941 they were $37,000,000,000. A pile of this money selfishly held by those who have only a few years to live should go to work for churches hospitals and colleges.

IN 1940 there were $2,800,000,000 of savings bonds in the hands of individuals. Today there are more than $50,000,000,000. Billions of those are owned by those who have done few unselfish things in their lives. A man with a $100,000 checking account might easily own $500,000 of these bonds.

At age 75, he says: "I can't take any chances." And he may have a bad heart and a flock of relatives hoping it will get worse.

Trustees of colleges and universities, guardians of hospital and church funds, and other institutional finance managers, do not talk up to the selfish capitalists the way they should. It would be far better today if more wealthy people would leave half of their wealth to institutions.

There are many ways to handle a wealthy elderly person. Those who will not give away a dime before they pass on can be persuaded to give away profits if and where they accrue. How is this done?

Well, last year I suggested to a capitalist who can afford to take big risks that he buy 1,000 shares of Chrysler at $60 a share. I said to him: "I think you could get more return in 1955 on money in those shares than in $60,000 2½ per cent bonds."

He bought it. Then I planned further action. "When Chrysler hits $100 (if it does), take the $40,000 profit, pay a $10,000 capital gains tax, keep $5,000 for yourself and give a $25,000 scholarship gift to that college where your nephew went."

LITTLE RISK—It's all going to be done. For the first time in his life he is doing something substantial at little risk.

This week I made a similar statement to a man past 70 whose life will be lengthened by acts of unselfishness.

I said to him: "Take $58,000 out of your too-big checking account. You are getting no return on that money. Buy 1,000 shares of Westinghouse Electric. The company is having labor trouble and the stock is weak. Hold the shares into 1957-1958. When they go up to $80 (they were $83 in 1955) take the $22,000 profit, pay $6,000 capital gains taxes and leave $15,000 to your church so the pastor can get the $600 salary increase he deserves and needs!"

A thousand unselfish stockholders this year should turn some of their profits over to institutions close to their hearts.

THE FORUM — (Q) I shall soon have $5,000 from maturing bonds. Will you name four good stocks I might buy?

(A) Corn Products, American Telephone and Telegraph, Guaranty Trust of New York, Standard Oil of California.

HEALTH FOR ALL

The Rewards of Illness

"This experience has been very rewarding." Those were the words, believe it or not, of a young woman leaving a tuberculosis hospital after seven months of treatment. A victim of one of the most serious diseases known to man, she was nevertheless able to say she had gained by it.

A career girl with a good job and a fine future ahead of her, her first reaction when the doctor told her she had TB was to try to forget the whole thing... make believe it never happened. But let her tell it in her own words.

"I didn't feel sick. I was lucky. The disease had not progressed very far. This was my life and I could do with it as I pleased. No one was going to make me go into a hospital."

She recalled the patient efforts of her doctor to explain why the hospital was a must. The deciding factor was the terrible knowledge that as a person with active TB she was a source of infection to others. So, "I left my job, phoned my friends, packed my bag and took off," she says. Once in the hospital, she decided to make the most of it. Books were available, a record player, a TV set. She learned to knit, tried drawing and working with clay.

"How astonished I was to discover I was unable to get to all the things I wanted to do. Some people tried things they had never done before, others had time to continue along lines they had begun. Some learned a foreign language," she recalls.

"Most of all, there is time for some pretty straight thinking, time to face oneself, to try to discover just where you are, how you got there, where you are going, how you are going to get there, just what you are any-way."

Of course, there were bad times, dark hours when the outside world looked most attractive and when time seemed to stretch ahead endlessly. She was tempted several times to leave the hospital. But she knew she would not be able to keep the proper routine when surrounded with family and friends. She stuck it out.

Seven months in the hospital, and then five more before she goes back to her job. But she goes back with firmer knowledge of herself and what she wants to do with her life. She has made an opportunity out of an experience which might have been a tragedy.

Pop's One Big Mistake

By FRANK TRIPP

Any writer who doesn't pull his punches is sure of one thing: that he will get nasty letters from those whom his words fit. So let 'em come, for I'm about to say that modern man is a phony.

When his father needed a bolt to put a button on a Chic Sale door, he riveted a head on one end of a piece of quarter-inch scrap iron, turned a 20 thread on the other end and the job was done for free in half an hour.

His dollar-down offspring, who has an SS number, shop paid insurance, a pocketful of installment contracts and a used Cadillac, shy the last three payments, needs the same. He drives to a five and dime, buys himself a quarter-inch stove bolt, goes home and finds it threaded too short.

NEXT DAY he goes back, buys a longer one, goes home, finds he needs a hole for the bolt. He drives back again, sneers at a 25-cent gimlet, falls for an $18.50 electric drill (dollar a week), goes home, bores the hole, puts in the bolt, strips the thread. The door isn't fixed yet and the total investment to date is four hours time and $18.75.

He goes to the lodge hall, votes to strike, files for unemployment relief, refuses seven jobs beneath his dignity, loafs for 26 weeks—then, in the local paper it says:

"Herman Anstruther, formerly with Westinghouse, has become associated with the Eureka Service Station Chain, as vice president in charge of customer relations."

Secret:—Herman is pumping gas and wiping windshields; he explains, "just temporarily, to develop less wasteful marketing methods for Standard Oil."

BUT WHY pick on poor Herman, you ask; why not get nearer home? Okay, let's do.

He blew in one day, a "natural writer" with an armful of samples. Here was a genius we mustn't miss. Truth was, we needed a guy, any guy, so Elmer got hired. Nobody was being kidded, unless it was Elmer.

He was sent to interview an old lady who was proud of her house plants. Elmer came back and wrote:

"Mrs. Ophelia Lincoln, whose husband was seventh cousin of the late Abraham Lincoln, at one time President of the United States, is exhibiting a magnificent specimen of Selenicereus grandiflorus, a cactus of the Peniocereus greggii or Hylocereus undatus genus. Just which of the Hylocereus, Selenicereus, Carnegiea or related genera, Mrs. Lincoln cannot say."

That was Elmer's report on the old lady's house plant. "What in hell is this?" belated puzzled City Editor Sime Legree.

"Why," quoth Elmer, "don't you remember, you sent me to

The key maneuver in today's hand is known as an "avoidance" play. The idea is to keep the dangerous hand out of the lead.

When West opened the seven of spades, East put up the ten, and South won with the queen. It was now clear that South was in no danger if he lost the lead to West, since another spade lead from West could do no harm. The contract would be defeated, however, if East gained the lead, since a spade from this direction would allow West to set the contract with the rest of the spade suit.

South saw that the bulk of the tricks for his contract would have to come from dummy's long diamond suit. He saw also that the suit had to be developed in such a way as to keep East out of the lead.

The problem was solved in a very straightforward manner. At the second trick South led a club to dummy's king. He next returned a low diamond from dummy and let this ride as a finesse through East. West was able to win the trick with the ten of diamonds but could do no further damage to the contract.

When South regained the lead he could cash the ace of diamonds, enter dummy with the queen of clubs, and take the rest of the diamonds to make his contract with an overtrick.

There would be a very different story to tell if South developed diamonds in the "normal" way by taking the ace of diamonds and then finessing dummy's jack. East would win with the queen of diamonds and return a spade, whereupon West would take four spade tricks to set the contract two tricks.

to raise a household of college degrees and world leaders. They got so smart that Pop couldn't carry on a conversation with them.

He ended up broke, with nobody to plant potatoes or dig ditches. He died worrying what the world was coming to — a problem not solved yet.

The leaders he raised became "arrogant" bosses, capitalists, management. The others who didn't make it became the "oppressed" working class. All of 'em, the "arrogant" and the "oppressed," living lives of comfort and ease beyond anything their fathers dreamed; all of 'em wasting more than Pop ever earned.

ALL OF THEM forgetting that Pop was a resourceful, self-reliant, independent, proud, insatiable who coveted no man's wife, wealth or wisdom. He used not crutches and hid under no group umbrella. He built America.

He created the worthwhile things that will endure far beyond the avarice, greed and wastefulness of his offspring. He made just one major mistake that is at the root of it all; he thought that super duper education would solve all human problems.

He didn't raise enough sons who know how to work — or really want to.

Parents Association Hears Mother Mary Aloysius Speak

At a meeting of the Parents Association of the Academy of St. Ursula held Wednesday, Jan. 18, guest speaker, Mother Mary Aloysius, Mistress General of the School, drew a comparison between the conditions existing at the time of the founding of the Society of St. Ursula and those of today.

Mother Mary Aloysius said, "Today, we see again radical changes taking place in the world about us and these are having their repercussions on the young. It is, therefore, the duty of the school to aid the home in the formation of strong characters, capable of evaluating situations according to their respective values and to put God and His Law always first. It is only insofar as young people develop a serious Christian inner life and realize that they must be guided by an authority higher than their own that it can be hoped that they will be properly prepared to take their place in an adult world."

Mrs. Vincent Cahill, chairman of the social committee, informed the members of future activities. Mothers of the girls in the first senior class will have a dinner and social evening at the Casablanca, Tuesday, Jan. 24.

Mothers of the third seniors and juniors will conduct a Valentine pre-Lenten cake and bake sale at the Smith avenue Bull Market, Friday, Feb. 10. A rummage sale will be held on Feb. 17 and 18.

Mother Mary Francis was also called upon to review details for the Day of Recollection which will take place at the Academy on Feb. 5.

Hostesses for the meeting were the Meses. Robert Kershaw and Peter Melnik.

If Your Husband Approves

A woman reader asks: "Would it be proper for a friend of my husband's to be an overnight guest in our house while my husband is working the night shift and will not be home until eight o'clock in the morning? I have met this friend on two previous occasions but don't really know him very well. My husband has invited him to spend the night at our house while he is in this city. I do not think this is proper and that he should stay at a hotel. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

A man that your husband has invited to the house is certainly a proper person or he wouldn't have been invited, and since your husband evidently approves there can be no cause for disapproval.

Return for Wedding Invitation

Dear Mrs. Post: When one accepts an invitation to a wedding and reception and sends a present to the bride, is that person further indebted to the bride's mother? In other words, is she obligated to return this invitation by inviting her to something? This information is to settle a dispute.

Answer: If you are having a wedding in your family, or giving a big general reception of any kind, you would, of course, include the bride's parents on your list; otherwise you are not expected to make any further return—unless you want to.

Addressing Envelope

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who, when writing a letter, always writes "For Mrs. John Smith" on the envelope. Isn't it bad form to write "for"?

Answer: No it has always been very good form to prefix a superscription with either "for" or "to". Our present day omission of it is due to our love of brevity.

Are you planning to have engraved wedding invitations or to write them by hand? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Details on wedding invitations are included in leaflet E-10, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Alliance to Meet in March

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Jan. 23 (AP)—Diplomatic circles say Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia have agreed to hold the semi-annual meeting of the Balkan Alliance Foreign Ministers' Council here in March. The pact provides that a consultative meeting of its foreign ministers should be held twice a year. Ankara was scheduled to be the site of a meeting last fall but the session was called off because of anti-Greek rioting in Turkey and the trouble between Turkey and Greece over Cyprus.

Would Expand Fund To Aid in Disasters

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—Sixteen Democratic House members from New York proposed today that the War Risk Insurance Act be amended so as to aid victims of natural disasters, such as hurricanes and floods.

The 16 said they would introduce identical bills dealing with the matter as a result of recent disasters which resulted in heavy losses in New York.

"Under the proposed legislation," the group said in a statement, "the War Risk Insurance Act would be expanded to cover disaster risks which would include all or any part of those risks which may be contemplated as a result of an action by the forces of nature" such as floods and hurricanes.

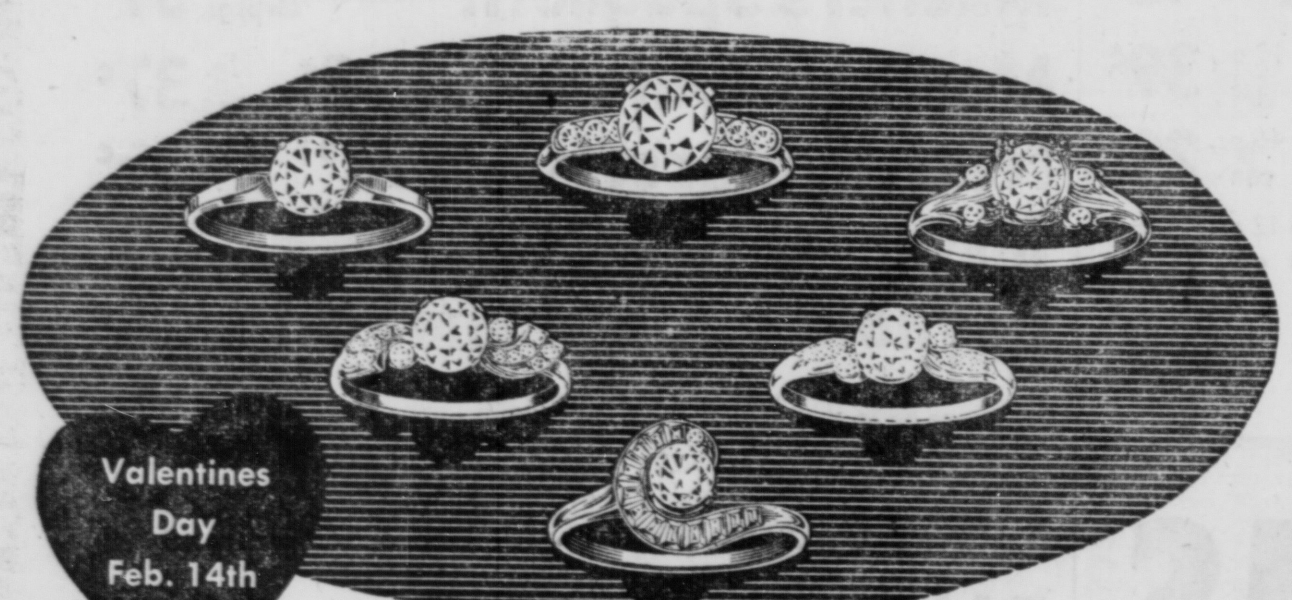

Sovereignty would be extended to privately-owned property, both real and personal, including residential, commercial and industrial property and equipment.

Such insurance could be issued when a determination was made that it could not be obtained from authorized insurance companies.

Joining in the statement were Reps. Holtzman, Delaney, Amerson, Keogh, Kelly, Collier, Multer, Rooney, Powell, Donovan, Klein, Davidson, Zelenko, Dolinger, Buckley and O'Brien.

Late Rally by Albany Topples New Paltz Teachers, 77-73

Fight Enlivens Close Cage Duel; Holway Paces Win

Godwin, Buckley Register 19 Apiece

Albany State Teachers College rallied to hand the New Paltz State basketball squad its third defeat Saturday night, nipping the Hawks 77-73 in a rough-and-tumble duel that saw two players banished for fighting in the final moments.

The Hawks, who now have a 5-3 record, were ahead by 73-71 late in the game.

Gary Holway, Albany's freshman ace, netted eight points in the closing minutes to put his team ahead.

WITH APPROXIMATELY three minutes to go, Holway and Dick King of New Paltz traded blows after a scramble under the backboard. Both were banished by the officials, Al Roberts of Ellenville and Don Neff of Cardinal Farley Military Academy.

Rough play was the game's outstanding characteristic. The Albany cagers, who routed New Paltz 92-58 at the upstate court earlier in the year, had a much tougher time on the Hawks' home boards. Albany led by six points at halftime.

Holway was the top scorer for both teams with 28 points. Sig Smith added 23. Big Don Mayer did a fine rebounding job.

JOHN GODWIN, former Kingston High School player, shared New Paltz scoring honors with Frank Buckley. Each tallied 19. Bob Miller added 15 and John Hussnatter 10.

The victory gave Albany a 5-8 record for the current campaign.

Woodstock Nips Ridgemen, 78-76

Sonny Simmons sank a basket in the final second of play Friday night, giving the Woodstock Varsity at 78-76 victory over Stone Ridge at the Art Colony court.

Simmons' deuce climaxed a thrilling last period battle. The Woodstock quintet blew an 11-point lead midway in the third quarter. It was basket-for-basket from then until the finish.

The Waterous boys, Herbie and Bill, led Woodstock's scoring with 27 and 18 respectively. George Smith had 26, Schoonmaker 20 and Mort Gazlay 16 for Stone Ridge.

Schoolboy Basketball KHS Takes Week Off; Six Games on Schedule

Winners of their last three games, Kingston High School's basketball players take a vacation from competition this week. The Maroon quintet resumes action next Tuesday, meeting Fallsburgh at the Kate Walton field house.

Action is light in the schoolboy cage picture this week because of Regents examinations. Only six games are on the docket.

On Wednesday, two DUSO titles are slated, Newburgh at Port Jervis and Ellenville at Middletown. These games complete the first round.

ON FRIDAY, three UCAL games are scheduled: Kerhonkson at Highland, Saugerties at Marlboro and New Paltz at Wallkill. Ontario is host to Cairo in a non-league contest.

Kingston has completed the first half of its schedule with a record of seven victories and two defeats. The wins were over Hudson, Liberty, Monticello, Catskill, Newburgh, Middletown and Ellenville in that order. Port Jervis and Poughkeepsie spilled the locals.

The Maroons are tied for third place with Newburgh in the DUSO League. Each has a 5-2 loop record.

A NEWBURGH VICTORY over Port Jervis would greatly enhance Kingston's chances for a berth in the Section Nine playoffs, since it would virtually tie the locals with NFA and Port for second place.

A win by Newburgh, however, would also give Poughkeepsie a bigger jump than ever on the rest of the league. The Bridge City squad is unbeaten.

Saugerties remains the only unbeaten team in Ulster county. The Sawyers have taken 10 straight this year and have won 18 in a row over a two-season span. Coach Bud Smith's classy quintet has a 6-0 UCAL record.

Kerhonkson, which has lost only to Saugerties in league play

North Carolina has 286,905 farms.

One of college basketball's all-time great teams—the fabulous Wonder Five of St. John's College (Brooklyn)—will be reunited for a Madison Square Garden ceremony on Feb. 2.

St. John's is playing its 1000th basketball game against the University of Cincinnati that night.

If you're a "young old timer" you will recall these giants of the possession basketball era, in the days when a six-footer on the court didn't look like a fugitive from a day nursery.

The Big Five (do you remember) included Max Posnack, Allie Shuckman, Mac Kinsbruner, Matty Begovich and Jack "Rip" Gerson, the court jester. They operated for two brilliant seasons. In 1929-30, they won 24 and lost 1 (to Providence 31-21) and achieved a 21-1 record in 1931-32, the only loss was 27-23 upset by New York University, also a great power in those days.

The Wonder Five moved intact into professional basketball as the Brooklyn Jewels of the American League playing home games at Arcadia Hall. Posnack, perhaps the best all-round player on the team, played a season with Frank "Pop" Morgenweck's Kingston Colonials of Carl Husta-Frank Shimek-Tiny Hearn vintage.

Buck Freeman, now an assistant to Frank McGuire at North Carolina, coached the Wonder Five and made them the first college team to use the switch on defense. Kinsbruner, the No. 2 man, was the back-court leader, a fair shooter and a great dribbler, especially when the freeze was on.

What and where are they today? Kinsbruner, 46, is resident manager of the Concord Hotel at Lake Klamasha in Sullivan county. His son, Jay, is a member of the Fallsburgh Central Comets of the DUSO League. Posnack, 46, is a wholesale liquor salesman in Washington, D. C.

Matty Begovich, a prominent basketball official, is sales representative for the U. S. Steel Export Co. of New York. Begovich appeared in Kingston as a player, referee and baseball pitcher, under the assumed name of Smith.

Begovich pitched for the late Harry Sills' Crystal Gardens in a series of City Baseball League thrillers. One of his duels with Specs Ellis of Millbrook who was wearing the Jimmy Morgan Repealer uniform on a Saturday afternoon drew 3500 fans to the Athletic Field.

Rip Gerson, probably 48, is operating a couple of taverns in Newark. Albert "Allie" Shuckman, 44, is still single. By trade he is a motion picture projectionist but his hobby is owning apartment houses in Brooklyn.

The current San Francisco Dons with Bill Russell and his stellar cast have some modern experts, among them Joe Lapchick, coach of the New York Knicks, rating them as the best college team in history. But the Wonder Five of St. John's and Kentucky's Lou Groza-Ralph Beard-Wah Wah Jones-quintet also have a flock of supporters.

The Wonder Team played its last game March 4, 1931, "routing" Manhattan, 30-16. That gives you an idea of what basketball looked like in the good, old possession style days. That was the era of strict possession, center jump, stiff zone defense and set shooting experts. Hank Luisetti and the running one-hander and the jump shot technique hadn't arrived.

That type basketball was considered tremendous by experts of that era, who today will defend it as pure basketball. That sort of stuff would bore present day spectators to death.

Chicago Scribes Cite Helfand

Chicago, Jan. 23 (AP)—Julius Helfand, who has been waging a fight to clean up boxing, is to receive the Chicago Boxing Writers Assn.'s award for contributing the most to boxing in 1955.

The Association said today their third annual award would be made Feb. 14 in Chicago to Helfand, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission.

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of Chicago, founder of the Catholic Youth Organization, and heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano were the previous winners.

Howe on Move For Red Wings

By The Associated Press

Gordie Howe, an old hand at scoring championships in the National Hockey League, is on the move again and his Detroit Red Wings are tagging along.

Howe had claimed the scoring crown four years in a row until last season when injuries resulted in a slump.

Howe got back into the swing last week and in the past three games has scored five goals and two assists to take the lead with 53 points. The Wings, just getting up steam, have won two of the three games and by whipping Toronto 4-1 last night have a second place tie with New York, beaten by Boston 3-1.

First place Montreal moved 14 points ahead, wallopping Chicago 6-2.

Jerry Toppazzini and Real Chevrefils, recently returned to Boston from Detroit, scored all of the Bruin goals in the decision against the Rangers. Toppazzini got two as the Bruins made it two straight—their first back-to-back victories since Nov. 10-12.

The standings:

Montreal	29	11	7	65	136
Rangers	22	15	7	51	132
Detroit	19	13	13	51	120

Poughkeepsie Named Site Of Schoolboy Rowing Event

Poughkeepsie negotiated another hurdle in its bid to regain the world rowing spotlight Saturday when it was chosen as the site of the 1956 national schoolboy championships.

The Schoolboy Rowing Association of America, meeting in New York city, voted to hold its title events in the Bridge City on May 25 and 26.

The decision was a unanimous one by the association's executive committee.

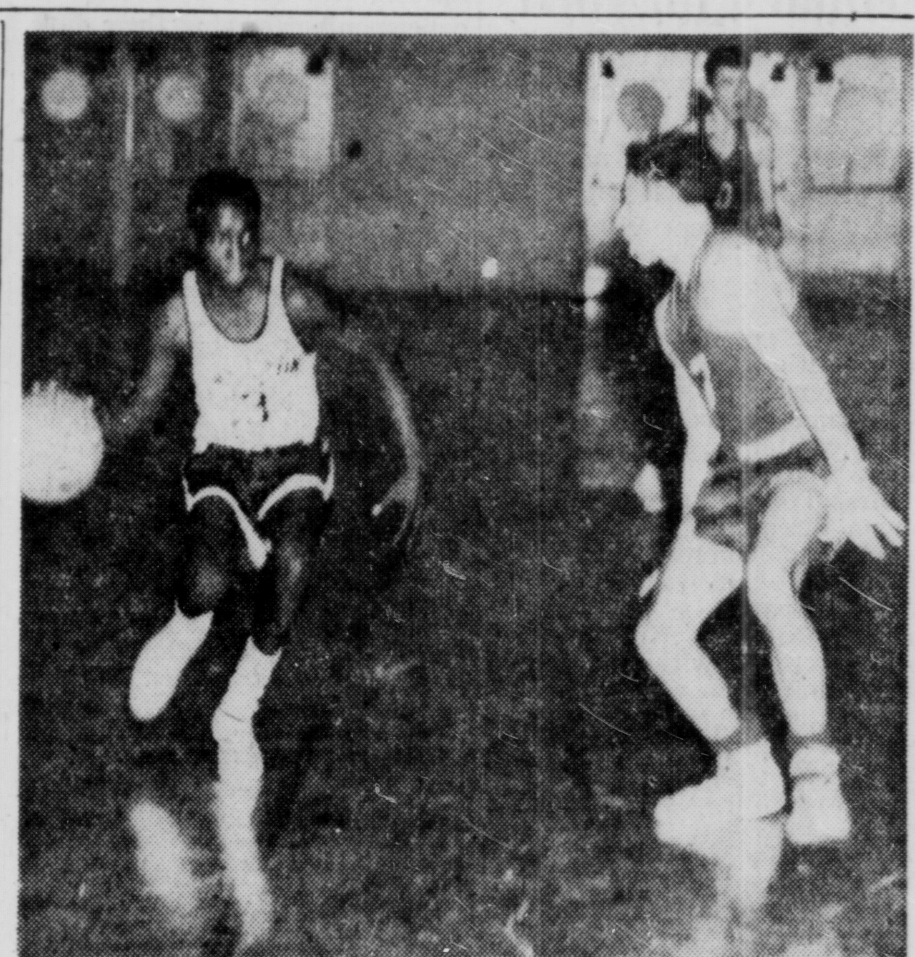

Poughkeepsie, which was until 1950 the site of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta, will be host to approximately 500 schoolboy oarsmen during the event. Eighteen races are planned.

The events will be rowed over a one-mile course.

THE POUGHKEEPSIE area has three high schools—PHS, Roosevelt and Arlington—competing in schoolboy rowing. Last year the Poughkeepsie and Arlington crews finished second in the national championships at Philadelphia, and Roosevelt won the consolation event.

The Bridge City will be host to two regattas. The other will be the Mid-Hudson, sponsored by the Poughkeepsie Rowing Club, which is scheduled July 15. The date was also set Saturday at a meeting of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

Calhoun Meets Luedee In Week's Best Battle

(By The Associated Press)

Rory Calhoun, a young middleweight from White Plains, N. Y., who had to go west to make a name for himself, finally breaks into the main event class in his home area tonight with a 10-round match against Jerry Luedee of New Haven at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

Frank Bachman, manager of the unbeaten Calhoun who has had only 16 pro fights, insists his boy should have been named "Rookie of the Year" for 1955 instead of Boston's Bob Murphy.

Calhoun's latest success was a knockout over Charlie Salas at Los Angeles, Dec. 1.

This is a rematch, giving the 22-year-old Luedee a chance to get even with the only man who beat him. The first bout, Nov. 26, 1954, a prelim at Madison Square Garden, was four rounds.

Calhoun and Luedee will be seen on television (Dumont) starting at 10 p. m. (EST).

Willie Pastrano, the 20-year-old whiz from New Orleans who has impressed many as a future champ, faces a rugged night Friday at Miami Beach (NBC radio and TV) when he meets Chuck Spieser of Detroit in another rematch.

Ever since Pastrano outpointed Spieser in Chicago, July 27, the loser has been clamoring for another chance. Since he came out of the Army, Spieser has won five of six, losing only to Pastrano.

Although Pastrano weighed 165 when he whipped Rex Layne, Dec. 19, he is ranked No. 2 among the light heavyweights behind Champion Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson in the ring ratings.

The Wednesday series makes its annual stop at Norfolk, Va., for a benefit show with Joey Giambra of Buffalo, N. Y. boxing Al Andrews of Superior, Wis. in 10 rounds (ABC-radio and TV).

Paddy DeMarco, an ex-lightweight champ, will be at work Thursday in Los Angeles against Devin Jordan, fast-rising Californian. Virgil Atkins of St. Louis boxes Mel Barker of Austin, Tex., at East St. Louis, Ill. Thursday.

Boys Club Stops Accord, 46-38

Vic Stella rimmed 20 points for the losers. Bob Sember added 10 to the Boys Club total.

Delayed Celebration
Wakefield, Mass., Jan. 23 (AP)—With shouts of "Happy New Year," 32 persons dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollard yesterday. For the past 10 years the Pollards have celebrated New Year's Eve with four Rhode Island couples, but bad weather prevented the reunion this year—until yesterday. The four Rhode Island couples and their 24 children arrived in a chartered bus and stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Pollard and the four Pollard children for about three hours.

Mardi Bobs Blank Elstons To Gain Hudson Valley Tie With Joneses

Dairymen Hit 3168 But Lose One to Shanahans

The Hudson Valley Bowling League standings feature a flat footed tie between Jones Dairy of Kingston and Mardi Bobs of Poughkeepsie today, despite a 2-1 Jones triumph over Ellenville Shanahans on a whopping 3168 series.

An incredible 114 rolled by Chris Gallo was the key to weekend deadlock as Elstons Sport dropped three to the Bobs on the Bowlodrome planks.

JONES DAIRY had compiled successive games of 1100 and 1106 when Gallo, who hit 213-222 in his first two games, skidded to 114 and Shanahans grabbed the third set, 1024-962. They had rolled 1079 in a losing cause in the middle game.

Seven "600" triples highlighted the spectacular duel between the Dairymen and the defending champions who rolled 3058.

Frank Greco of the Shanahans led with 236-257-680. Hammerin' Hank Kemmerer rolled 238-222-651, Sam Fisher 202-236-617, Jerry Oster 225-209-217-651, Charles Manfro 246-214-657, John

Italian Tops Yank In Bobsled Prelim
Cortina D'Ampezzo, Jan. 23 (AP)—Italy's Eugenio Monti piloted his two-man bobsled to a split second lead over America's Bud Washbond today in the first official elimination races for the winter Olympic games.

Italy's little ex-ski champion whooshed his garish red and yellow sled down Cortina's 1,700-meter course (109 yards more than a mile) in one minute, 22.56 seconds after setting a course record of 1:22.38 in an earlier trial run.

Washbond, a gaugemaker from East Hartford, Conn., plunged down the 16-curve track in 1:22.91, the best time ever by a non-Italian on the run.

Bobsters from the 14 nations vied in the opening day of eliminations designed to pare the 25-sled entry list to 20.

SOMETIMES WHEN A HUNTER DRESSES A HEALTHY LOOKING RABBIT, HE MAY FIND FLUID-FILLED CYSTS THAT RESEMBLE BLISTERS BETWEEN ITS SKIN AND FLESH AND IN THE ABDOMINAL CAVITY. CYSTS ARE A TYPE OF TAPEWORM LARVAE, FOUND ALSO IN DOGS, THAT DO NOT AFFECT HUMANS. DRESSING REMOVES THEM AND THE ADULT PARASITE FOUND IN INTESTINES. THEY ARE NEVER IN THE MEAT!

Possible Radium Spill

Montreal, Jan. 23 (AP)—Workers at the Canadian Vickers shipyard here were warned that an undetermined amount of radium may have been spilled when fire yesterday damaged a boiler shop, a company official said today.

Safety Engineer J. E. MacNamara said a quantity of the radioactive element was normally stored in the boiler room and that it may have been spilled when fire melted the lead container. But it is possible the container was in another section of the plant, when the two-alarm blaze started, MacNamara said. Fire Chief Joseph Lacapelle said fire damage would probably exceed $30,000.

Trace Cancer Growth

Bar Harbor, Maine, Jan. 23 (AP)—Cancer researchers at Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory say they have traced a cancer growth from a tumor to its original cell—a feat once considered impossible. The tracing job was done on white spruce trees afflicted with tumors. The tracing is still considered impossible with animal cells. The scientists said they located the original cancerous growth by correlating the tree's growth rings to the tumors. Recently, the Jackson scientists said they had successfully transplanted cancer tissue from one animal to another.

Desmond Would Pledge Delegates At Conventions

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 23 (AP)—A bill that would provide for pledged delegates from New York state to presidential conventions will be introduced in the Legislature tonight by Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican.

Desmond said last night he will also introduce a second bill to require nomination in the primaries, rather than at state conventions, of candidates for governor, other statewide offices and U. S. senator.

Both bills, he said, are designed to give the public a greater voice in choosing nominees.

DESMOND'S presidential primary bill provides that:

1. "Enrolled members of a party will vote for delegates pledged to a presidential candidate, with his name to appear in large type above the delegates' names to indicate clearly that they have been pledged to him.

2. "A presidential candidate may not hold his delegates beyond the second ballot at the national convention or after he fails to get more than 10 per cent of the convention vote.

3. "A political party's state committee retain its right, on submission of a petition signed by a committee majority, to present at the primary a slate of uninstructed delegates."

AS DELEGATES to a presidential nominating convention are now chosen, Desmond said, the preference of the people of a state may be ignored by the political bosses.

"In 1952, for example," he said, "Senator Kefauver swept the New Jersey preference vote. But he got not a single convention vote from that state's delegation at the Democratic national convention. In our own state, supporters of Senator Taft, a Republican, were blocked from getting their fair share of delegates because of a system which vests control largely in political party leaders and under which voters at a primary may be kept in the dark as to whom the delegates will support.

"UNDER MY BILL, voters at a primary election will find the names of delegates clearly marked as for a certain presidential candidate. They will be able to vote with confidence that the delegates of their choice stand pledged to the candidate of their choice."

Desmond's second bill provides that New York state nominations for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, U. S. Senator, Attorney General, Comptroller and Judges of the Court of Appeals be made at a primary election.

Any person seeking a statewide office could become a candidate for nomination by obtaining 12,000 signatures, including at least 50 from each of three quarters of the counties of the state. "For state-wide offices," Desmond said, "New York state is only one of four states which do not have a direct primary. Instead, it nominates by the convention system, which is tailor-made for boss control.

"NATIONALLY, we probably cannot do away with the convention system. But so long as we have it, we should make the delegates more representative of the will of the majority of the enrolled voters of the parties than they are now when they are mostly handpicked by political party bosses—often one or two who control the whole state machinery of a party."

Abolition of the convention system and adoption of the direct nominating system which he proposes, Desmond said, would give enrolled party voters a direct vote in the party's choice of candidates.

"Both my bills," he said, "will help strengthen the nominating system. They will invite the candidacies of more outstanding men and women."

Engineer Dies in Train Wreck in West Virginia

Williamson, W. Va., (AP)—The engine and six cars of the Norfolk and Western Railway's west-bound "Pocahontas" passenger train left the rails and plunged over a Tug River embankment 27 miles east of here early today. Engineer Walt Willard of Bluefield, W. Va., was killed and an undetermined number of persons injured.

About 40 persons were brought to Williamson Memorial Hospital. Seven had been admitted with various injuries, others were released after treatment for minor hurts and others remained to be examined five hours after the wreck, which occurred at 12:30 a. m.

Among the injured was the locomotive fireman, Ernest Hoback of Bluefield.

The derailment occurred in Cedar Curve, at Cedar. The train was bound from Norfolk, Va., to Cincinnati.

Old Formula Is Being Changed on Wealth, Poverty

Chicago, Jan. 23 (AP)—The president of the United States Chamber of Commerce said today Americans have changed the old formula about poverty being a virtue and wealth a sin.

"While other nations may have rejected that half of the old formula which deals for us to question both halves of it—to the infinite betterment of mankind," Boyd Campbell said.

"We are creating our own philosophy—that poverty is not of necessity a blessing—and that wealth is a public trust.

"We say, in effect, that it is the use of men's means—material or otherwise—by which their value is measured."

Campbell's prepared remarks were at the opening general session of the National Assn. of Home Builders annual convention. His theme was "What is right with this country."

HE LAUDED the American system of free enterprise and said the nation must have "eternal vigilance" to preserve it.

NAHB Secretary Carl Mitnick announced the organization has reached a new high in membership of 36,598. The 12th annual convention began preliminary sessions yesterday and continues through Thursday.

NAHB President Earl W. Smith of E. Cerrito, Calif., said nearly 30,000 builders and representatives of allied industries from the United States, Canada, Latin America and Hawaii had made reservations.

The exhibits of 450 manufacturers took all available show space in the Conrad Hilton and Sherman Hotels and in the Coliseum.

THE PROGRAM, restricted to persons with active interests in the industry, offers a round of discussions touching almost every conceivable problem of the contractor, from credit and land acquisition through taxes and community planning to the latest plastic gadgets for the bathroom.

The convention this year has a special program for builder who operates on a small scale—less than 20 buildings. It consists of a series of specially earmarked talks and discussions for the "one to 20 builder" arranged by a special committee headed by Ernest Zerble of Mason City, Iowa.

A SEMINAR on providing adequate community facilities is another feature of the meeting, with panelists at a Wednesday session including Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh; Frank C. Moore, chairman of the government affairs foundation, and D. Charles A. Boehm, Bucks county, Pa., superintendent of schools.

The 1956 outlook for the industry will be discussed Tuesday by George Hitchings, manager of the economics department of the Ford Motor Co., Dr. George Cline Smith, chief economists of the F. W. Dodge Corp., and other experts.

Speakers include Secretary of Labor Mitchell who will share Wednesday's program with Sen. John J. Sparkman, (D-Ala.) the 1952 Democratic candidate for vice president, and several leaders of Congress and federal agencies.

Going Is Tough For Seven Man Deepfreeze Team

Aboard USS Glacier, McMurdo Sound, Antarctica, Jan. 23 (AP)—A seven-man Operation Deepfreeze team is pushing its way into Byrd land to mark a trail and select a site for a base to be built there next year. But the going is tough.

The seven men, traveling by tractor and supported by a single-engine plane, left the expedition base at Kaiman Bay, Little America V, a week ago. Last reports said they had covered only 80 of the 600 miles before them.

THE FIRST difficulty they ran into was a wide bottomless crevasse, stretching 40 miles across their path. They went 20 miles out of their way to detour the opening and then were confronted by another huge rip in the ice shelf.

Late reports said they were still trying to get around the second crevasse but bad weather had stymied them temporarily.

One thing the expedition has not done and will not try this season is an attempt to land a plane for the first time in history at the South Pole. Plans call for selection of a site there for another International Geophysical Year (IGY) base to be built next fall. It was hoped a landing might be made during this phase of the operation.

"WE COULD not use our only skied planes, the Neptunes, because their exploratory work had higher priority," explained Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, commander of Task Force 34.

"We had hoped two Dakotas, which also have skis, would land
